BETHEL RECEIVES CHECKS FOR F. H. A. LOAN/GRANT

Eloyn R. Morrow, County Supervisor for the South Paris Farmers Home Administration office and Dwight Sewell, Chief of Community Services from Orono, Maine delivered a $225,000 loan check and a $40,000 grant check to Eloyn Dickey, Bethel town manager, on Thursday, April 12.

This Farmers Home Administration loan and grant will be used on the sewer project for the town of Bethel. The $40,000 grant does not need to be paid back by the town and will be used toward the town's share of construction costs on sewer collectors and thereby keep down user costs. The $225,000 loan is to be repaid over a 30-year period of time through a bond issue.

Town Manager Eloyn Dickey expects the sewage treatment plant to be in operation sometime in June.

Toni Conrad

Toni Conrad received her nurses training at Rumford Community Hospital. She knew that she wanted to be a nurse, but wasn't sure in what field. Now Toni plans to go to school at Maine Medical Center in Portland, studying X-ray technology. She will begin the two year course June 30.

Toni works part time at Andover Wood Products, making panels, after school and week ends. This is the beginning of her second year here. She also worked at Balsam's in New Hampshire, cooking and as kitchen help.

In her spare time she paints, sews and drives around in her car. She collects horse statues, and has about 15 of them now. Toni's pet mouse has the run of her bedroom, and evidently gets along, or keeps out of the way, of her two St. Bernards.

Toni is a member of the Library and Pop Clubs, and the Varsity Rebels. She was a JV Cheerleader for one year, and played basketball two years. (She also played the part of "Angie" in the Senior Class Play which was presented last month. Toni was the maid who "straightened" the picture on the wall.)

Every summer Toni goes to Nova Scotia with her family to visit relatives. She says she loves it there; it's beautiful, and there is so much to do.

Toni's biggest ambition is to be a nurse. She has a sister and two brothers, and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Conrad, of Andover.

Terry Berryment, Bryant Pond, is a member of CMG, School of Radiological Technology, and will begin during August 6 to be an X-ray technician. She participated in the Area Aide Training Program at Rumford Community Hospital, and that the course really helped to prepare her with medical knowledge, which was used to the hospital environment and patient nurse relationship. Terry thought that the nurses were very nice and helpful, and she especially enjoyed working on the maternity and pediatrics wards. Her two favorite patients were, a small boy in isolation, and "Mildred," who seemed to help Terry as much as Terry helped her.

Terry has been a cheerleader for four years, and was captain this year. She is a member of the Varsity Rebels, GAA, and the National Honor Society. She has been a class officer for the last two years, and was chosen Outstanding Teenager of America. Last year she was one of Telstar's softball team members.

Stock car races are coming up, and Terry plans to be there. She likes to go to the movies, ski, shop, bowl, and play pool. Terry also likes to make whoopee pies, paint, and paper, and babysit "The Boys".

During this month's vacation, Terry is heading for Florida, camping with Belinda and mother, Toni, Ann, and Alice. They plan to stay two weeks and spend some time at Disney World.

"THE WORLD'S

GREENWOOD CITY

—Mrs. Collette Morgan, Corres.—

For weeks my snowshoes had hung in the basement. Until today, April 12, I had no thought of using them again until winter season. However, today I put them on and went for an April jaunt.

Because the pond is open down front and unsafe in other places, I had to stay on this side. So I took the bulldozer road toward the farm fields.

I began to see what the snow had done. Not far from home a gray birch had broken and fallen across the road. I had to go around the top of it so stopped to look at its twigs and winter buds. The branches were short, slender, and somewhat contorted. The head was long, narrow pointed, and open. Although known as the rabble of the birches, they are beautiful in spring. Over the hillside soon there will be their haze of green. They bow, tangle, shed, fall and rot; then send up new shoots for they do not easily give up. They are not welcomed by farmers, do not have the dignity of the white birch but nature's economy needs them for leaf mold in unlikely places.

I had never before snowshoed to music from the trees. The sparrows, so missed during the winter months, had found a few of their old songs; the half liquid ka-chee of the blackbirds by the pond, and the scolding of the robin were along the roadway. I felt sorry for the robin hopping away on that "white stuff" and finding nothing.

Then up from near my feet from a softened greenish spot rose the woodcock. He was probing deeply in the mud for food. The tip of his very long bill is flexible and sensitive enough to enable him to feel and grasp his prey. Away he flew in his customary straight line several yards then waited again for my approach. This time as I came near he tread his feet and crouched a bit several times before he again flew; his whistle in tune.

Phoebe who has been back for several days added his brusque song of two or three notes as he swung on the dead outer branches of his lookout post.

Above and all around, the wind added its whoop and roar as it buffeted and blustered its way through the trees and down the valleys. From the north west and chilly. To add to all this, there was the tinkle of the tiny brooks racing . . . hurrying to the pond.

I turned right to take the old mountain lane. In places there were nearly perfect tracks of man; made by the snow "plopping" from limbs above.

A sure track was that of the fox. He had come from far down the hill. I started a partridge from over the wall. I wondered if it were looking for a favorite drumming log or rock for an early April morning soon for a beating of wings.

At the top of the hill I viewed, which I have done so many, many times, the mountains. There as always, they stood rising out of the blue haze of distance. Sometimes thought of as wrinkles on earth's forehead; they are stupendous and beyond easy comprehension. Young or old we are drawn back to them again and again.

A spot in the sky, high up, attracted my attention; a hawk sailing through the air just for the joy of it. Sometimes it flapped its wings as if they were spreads of paper. Then it soared closer and I could see it was a red tailed hawk. It sank slowly with wings outspread, and rested for a long half minute in mid air. Again it sailed out.

wings moving, sometimes resembling the winging of a butterfly. I watched until it took off abandoning the fields and flying south, far out, just a spot over a forested world.

Turning now down the hill through the trees, I stopped beneath a hemlock. This the tree of the ages, grows slowly; its cones, needles, and timber have been found in America's early geological strata so is of ancient lineage.

Arriving again at my starting point, the black ducks were discussing nesting places or whatever ducks do discuss.

Going to the basement I again replaced my snowshoes. Dare I hope that spring is here this time?

An Easter carol fills the air
As winter's traces disappear,
And all the world is fresh and new

To greet the springtime of the year.

An Easter carol fills the air,
May its message never cease . . .
Till every heart is filled with love
And the world is filled with peace.

A CUT ABOVE THE REST!

WHAT A WAY TO HOE!

Flower and vegetable gardening can be back-breaking work what with all the spading, cultivating, aerating and composting that's required. On the other hand, it can be a very rewarding and relaxing hobby with the help of an Ariens Tiller.

Ariens, America's first garden tiller manufacturer, offers three styles of rugged tillers—the gear-drive Jole and Backhoe and a brand new chain-drive model. Powered with engines ranging from 3 HP to 7 HP, some models feature two speeds forward and reverse and the popular side-to-side adjustable handlebars to avoid walking in tilted soil.

When you add up all the features of Ariens Tillers and compare performance you're bound to say—"What A Way To Hoe!"

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

AT WOODSTOCK, MEY APRIL 11

The regular meeting of the Woodstock Chamber of Commerce took place Wednesday evening, April 11, at the Fire Station meeting room in Woodstock, Maine. Minutes of the previous meeting were read by the secretary, Alice Auchmoody-Johnson, and they were approved. David Steward, as acting treasurer, asked that a motion be made to correct a discrepancy of less than a dollar in the books. The motion was made and passed. It was also decided to establish a petty cash fund, not to exceed $500 to facilitate payment of miscellaneous expenses.

"Clean Up Day" has been set for Saturday, May 5, although people are encouraged to get out whenever they can to take care of the litter which has accumulated over the winter. For those joining in the cleanup activities on May 5, a lunch is to be provided. Vernon Poland suggested that the food be served in the vicinity of the Grange Hall, and the Chamber would like to encourage anyone who has the time to prepare something which can be brought at that time. Sandwiches and cookies are needed. The beverages will be provided. Rain date will be May 12.

Wendell Tatchell reported that the Extension Service has not yet contacted him regarding the proposed meeting to be held concerning the planning board and its advantages to the town. Notice will be posted when a date is set.

Because of the number of accidents and near-misses which have occurred on Route 26 at the sharp turn by the Bryant Pond post office, the Chamber of Commerce is sending a letter to the Maine State Highway Department to encourage them to erect a flashing yellow light at the intersection. So many people come upon this turn and are not prepared to negotiate it. A flashing light used to hang at this intersection but was removed years ago. It is hoped that a letter from the Chamber may bring this dangerous situation to the attention of the proper authorities.

The Chamber of Commerce begins its membership year at the April meeting. Dues for one year are $100 per person. Anyone who has not been to a Chamber meeting is invited to come out to the May 9th meeting.
